

Green Fix was an ambitious multi media consultation project undertaken by the City Council, Groundwork, Red Rose Forest, Manchester Museum and students Emma Cepek and Luke Blazejewski from Salford University.

Its aim was to find out what the people of Manchester really think about Wildlife. Over two thousand people responded to the questionnaire survey, and the findings are set out in an easy to read report with striking images of nature in the City.

Want to know more? Then read the report via the pdf or watch the film below □

click here to download the pdf