

Keep an eye out on our surveys page for any information in projects that you the public can take part in. From wildlife questionnaires to practical activity sessions, there will be plenty happening throughout the year.

Make sure you also pay close attention to any of the oppertunities to take part in OPAL surveys as well, especially if you want to be involved in more "hands on" research.